Out For 80,000

All eyes are on South Carolina where more than a thousand new members have joined the Marketing Association since the recent drive began. The four big markets of Timmonsville, Florence, Kingstree and Aynor have gone solid for cooperation.

Virginians, Kentuckians, North Carolinians and leaders of the Palmetto State are making their last powerful attack this week, in 25 tobacco towns of the belt.

Next week comes the last chance for growers to sign up with the Cooperative, and the present enthusiasm and backing of bankers and business men which has increased with the sign up of the growers, foretells another eleventh hour landslide before the gates of the cooperative warehouses dose upon the helpless growers who fail to sign.

The Cooperative Markets will open shortly after August 1st throughout the South Carolina belt.

With the backing of $30,000,000, to pay the first advances, with expert graders ready to receive the crop, with facilities to redry three million pounds a day, the Association is now ready for business

Western North Carolina is on fire with enthusiasm this week. Last Saturday's basket picnic meeting of thousands of farmers, on the old battle ground of Guilford started a series of the biggest meetings yet planned for this section of the old belt. Statesville stages a mammoth celebration on Thursday July 20th, at which President George A. Norwood of the Association, and Col. E. C. Marvin of the Kentucky Burley Pool will address the growers from four counties.

Riedsville the cooperative center which has built its own warehouse for the Association will welcome Oliver J. Sands and Col. Marvin of Kentucky at a celebration which includes the farmers from several counties.

Keysville the old headquarters of the Virginia organization welcomed Director Jno. Hutchesin of the Extension Division, M. O. Wilson, secretary of the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, and Col. Marvin of Kentucky at a meeting of Charlotte county growers who now boast a 97 per cent sign-up with the Association.

Twelve hundred contracts from three states reached Raleigh headquarters last week, and officials of the Association prophesy an eighty thousand membership before the old belt markets open.

Buckingham

Sad and serious to see what we sometimes see is the want of modesty in women; for instance to see a woman let a married man sit by her side with one arm around her waist and the other holding her hand and he no more kin to her than Adam. These things make little impression on those used to see things of the kind every day. I heard a former Governor of Virginia say that one of the most irksome days a governor had to spend during his administration was one spent at Mount Vernon among the colonial dames, where they would speak of Mary the mother of Washington, almost as if she was Mary the mother of our Savior. The two are not to be compared; and yet the mother of Washington in her purity of character would make a fine model for the women of today Last week's issue of a Virginia daily said that women employed in banks were being taught to shoot and the Editor made a suggestion that the barks employ the self made widows who already knew how to shoot.

So much is said and written about girls showing themselves in bathing suits, but on the highways now we see girls in so near a state of nudity as would make an old-time black mammy blush under her dark skin. The men and even the boys are tired of seeing this kind of thing, which cannot do other than rouse the most evil passions in them. Ladies of Virginia stop and seriously consider this subject. Whither are we drifting? Break down the native modesty in woman and you destroy the greatest bulwark we have against impurities in both the sexes.

When lovely woman stoops to folly

And finds too late that men betray
What charm can sooth her melancholy
What art can wash her guilt away?

No one ever saw finer growing weather than we have had the first two weeks in July. Farmers who had threshed their wheat and those who secured it in houses, or those who had staked it got their grain in fine condition, while a few men who had not secured their wheat and oats got them wet and then threshed it in bad condition.

Mr. John Miller has been selling out his stock of goods near Mantoe at auction each Saturday.

Mr. Charlie Zimerman came through Buckingham and gathered up a drove of sheep and took them over in the Valley of Virginia. Mr. Zimmerman said he shipped a car load of cattle over there and found slow sale for them and that money was as scarce over there as it is here.

The exodus of negro men from here to the mines in W. Virginia continues.

Mr. John W. Haskins who has been staying with his sister at Maysville, N C, has been called back to his same position in W. Va. with the B & O. Ry.

Mrs. Lewis Cabell, of Fork Union, Fluvanna county, spent last week visiting in the homes of Mrs. H. C. Glover, Mrs. P. P Glover and other friends.

Mrs. C. C. Johnson is in Richmond staying with Mr. and Mrs. Simpson.

Mr. Henry Patteson says his tobacco is ready to top.

Don't forget the meeting to begin at Mulberry Grove church on the 5th Sunday in July and the Tabernacle meeting to begin on August 18th.

The Board of Supervisors meets here on the 4th Monday in July.

The fine spacious warehouse at Dillwyn is advertised for sale July 26th.

Mrs. Cabell Robertson and children, of Nelson county were visitors at the home of the Misses Glover last week end.

Be sure to send some of your wheat crop to Williams and Miller here and encourage the new enterprise.

Dr. Lacy was here to fill his regular appointment Sunday.

Beginning and Commencement.

The Latin commencement is more formal than the Saxon beginning, as the verb commence, is more formal than begin. Commencement is for the most part restricted to some form of action, while beginning has no restriction, but may be applied to action, state, material, extent, enumeration, or to whatever else may be conceived of as having first a part, point, degree, etc. The letter A is at the beginning (not the commencement) of every alphabet.

Synthetic Chemistry, After Learning the Secret of Making Royal Purple, Succeeds in Producing All the Colors of the Rainbow

(Told in Eight Sketches)
By JOHN RAYMOND

No. V
COLOR

In the dim ages of history when man first felt the desire for beauty, traders searched the world for dyestuffs, jewels, perfumes, spices and precious woods. The risk of these voyages was great and only princes or nobles could afford the fruits of ventures to the far corners of the world. No man of humble origin could aspire to the rich crimsoned linen, the Royal Purple of ancient Tyre, retailing at $600 a pound.

Royal Purple is an age-old insignia of aristocracy. This dye was secreted by a small shellfish on the Eastern coast of the Mediterranean and here the enterprising merchants of Tyre formed a dye monopoly equaled only by the German Cartel.

A bit of the whitish liquid secreted by this mollusk, if spread upon a cloth and exposed to the air and sunlight turns first green, next blue and then purple. If washed with an alkali soap it becomes the magnificent Crimson worn by the Cardinals and Princes of the Catholic Church. Tyrian purple vanished from the marts of the world with the fall of Tyre.

Synthetic chemistry learned the secret of making Royal Purple as, indeed, it learned to manufacture indigo, the same deep blue that may be seen today in museums, the winding sheets of Egyptian mummies. It was an achievement to snatch its distinctive color from royalty and to rival the best vegetable indigo of the ancients but modern chemistry has gone far beyond that. Today any kind of dye found in nature can be made in the laboratory. Indeed, among the 900 shades and colors being manufactured there are tints that it would be difficult to discern in the rainbow.

These colors all come from coal tar but after it is understood that coal tar is the quintessence of the forests of untold ages the feat does not appear to be so marvellous.

And still for centuries this country has been wasting vast quantities of the precious material. In fact, the manufacture of coke, in which process coal tar is obtained, is the only metallurgical operation that America continues to conduct, in a large measure, after the manner of a century ago. In 1915 there were 41,500,000 tons of coke produced in this country for which almost 61,000,000 tons of coal were used.

Because of the enormous demands for war materials modern by-product ovens were constructed and in 1919 more than 52 per cent of our coke supply came from these ovens. It is estimated that for every ton of coke made in modern by-product ovens there is saved in fuel alone 825 pounds of coal. When a house-holder burns a ton of coal he has sacrificed something like 11,000 cubic feet of gas, nine gallons of tar, twenty-five pounds of ammonium sulphate, 2.08 gallons of pure benzol and 0.56 gallons of pure toluol.

In our industrial life the use of coal derivatives is just beginning to be felt. The rubber industry depends upon these products for solvents, compounding ingredients and softeners. Practically all types of paint now use a derivative of coal. Printing inks, shoe polishes, brake linings, dry cleaners, perfumes, explosives, linoleums, glues, pastes and photographic developers, contain coal products as basic ingredients. The paper industry, the soap business, and the shoe manufacturer would be in serious difficulties without the by-products of coal tar. The electrical industry would lose its chief source of insulating material and the doctors and druggists would be without a sufficient supply of phenol to make their supply of everyday drugs.

Coal tar, the refuse of ancient vegetable kingdoms, is valuable because it produces a galaxy of brilliant colors, not so much for the colors themselves but because in producing them so many intermediates are developed that are of inestimable worth to the industrial life of the nation.

Pains Were Terrific

Read how Mrs. Albert Gregory, of R. F. D. No. 1, Bluford, Ill., got rid of her ills. "During . . . I was awfully weak . . . My pains were terrific. I thought I would die. The bearing-down pains were actually so severe I could not stand the pressure of my hands on the lower part of my stomach . . . I simply felt as if life was for but a short time. My husband was worried . . . One evening, while reading the Birthday Almanac, he came across a case similar to mine, and went straight for some Cardui for me to try.

TAKE

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I took it faithfully and the results were immediate," adds Mrs. Gregory. "I continued to get better, all my ills left me, and I went through . . . with no further trouble. My baby was fat and strong, and myself—thank God—am once more hale and hearty, can walk miles, do my work, though 44 years old, feel like a new person. All I owe to Cardui." For many years Cardui has been found helpful in building up the system when run down by disorders peculiar to women.

Her Money Was Gone!

An old woman who lived alone had kept nearly $2,000 00 in currency around her house for years. She was afraid of banks.

Last fall she became seriously ill, and—

No, she didn't die. But when she went to look for the cash it was gone! Fortunately some honest friends had found it while she was unconscious and had deposited it to her credit in a bank.

This woman has now decided that after all the bank is the safest place, and, besides, her money is not idle any longer. It is now earning 4 per cent for its owner.

Let us put your money to work for you.

THE GREATEST FARMER IN THE WORLD

One-fourth of the wheat we grow is the result of the researches of the Government. After years of untiring experiment and investigation, the Government, through the Department of Agriculture, was enabled to introduce into this country the remarkable Durum wheat through which our production has been increased fully twenty-five per cent. This has been only one of many surprising but little-known accomplishments of the Government, which are covered in the interesting series of stories for which we have the exclusive right of distribution in this community.

We'll send this literature to you each month without obligation on your part if you will ask for it.
